The most un-PC cop is back in brand new Season 5!

Shaken up after the final nail-biting ending of season 4, Fred Cain, the cop on wheels, is back with tried and tested cynicism and his own brand of corrosive humour, for an explosive season 5, set in the sublime scenery of the Côte d'Azur.

This time around, the “someone” out to get Cain seems close to achieving their ends... With serious secrets revealed, blackmail, plus settling of old scores: the vice tightens around the detective, who continues on with his investigations with his usual provocative nature and stoic non-conformist behaviour.

In an electric atmosphere with suspense all-around, this new season promises revelation upon revelation, right up until an unprecedented season finale.

Mondays at 6:40pm
Starting 12th February
